

Native Supremacy Movement

Aug 24, 2007

"There are only two ways of dealing with the white man. One, either you pick up a gun, or you stand between the white man and his money." Chief Terrance Nelson on CTV.

"I don't give a rat's ass whether I create victims or not... not until every single home has suffered as we have suffered will I stop." Shawn Brant, Mohawk Warrior in Deseronto.

We are all well aware that in any community you have racist people. When these people gather together to make extreme public statements against another group of people we all understand that such actions conflict with the peaceful co-existence and multiculturalism that Canadians are so proud of.

When such racism is wrapped up with a superiority rant then a Supremacy Movement is born. We all understand the dangers of White Supremacy Groups and Muslim Extremists, but we need to understand there is a growing movement of Native Supremacy that justifies violent actions against other races.

Our Governments and Police Forces do not have a problem dealing with White Supremacy Groups or Muslim Extremists and we all understand that such groups only represent the views of a very small portion of society.

We noticed on the CSIS web site the following example of a terrorist threat in Canada: "White supremacists have been aggressively opposing the immigration policies of the Canadian government and have used violent rhetoric against the Jewish community."

But how has our Government and the Police handled the Native Supremacy Groups? Well, first they deny they even exist. No amount of extreme 'violent rhetoric' against another race has caused CSIS, OPP or any police force to deal with these extremists.

I am unaware of any White Supremacy Group physically destroying a bridge or power station, but we have witnessed it being done by people whose publicly stated view is nothing short of Native Supremacy. The public statements that violate and victimize another race are acceptable and are commonplace in the 'rhetoric' of these extremists.

I can assure you that if I created a t-shirt that stated 'my heroes have always killed Natives' the police would be at my door charging me with a Hate Crime.

If I stated, "There are only two ways of dealing with the Jews. One, either you pick up a gun, or you stand between the Jew and his money", you bet there would be Human Rights Complaints filed against me in a heart beat and the police would lay Hate Crime charges against me.

Racism and Hatred are responsible for many of the evils we see around the world. Canadians are trying to build a society where respect and tolerance for others is the way of life. There is no room within a modern society for any group that wants to promote their racist hatred.

We, as a People, must always be willing to denounce such racism in whatever form it takes.

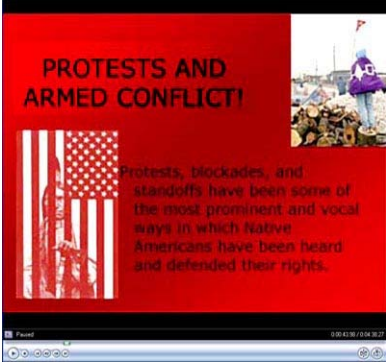

We call upon Governments and Police to use Canada's Hate Crime Laws and Anti-Terrorism Act to help fight against such racism and hatred. It is time for CSIS and the Police to deal with the creators and promoters of the racist videos below.

The promotion of violence and hatred by any person or group CANNOT be tolerated in Canadian Society.
